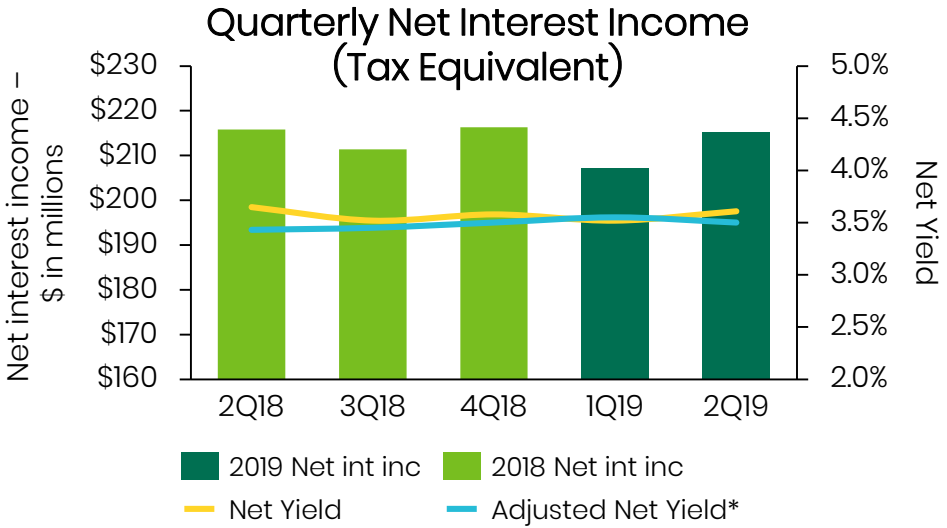
As of June 30, 2019

DRIVERS OF 2nd QUARTER 2019 EARNINGS

Net Interest Margin	Core NIM decreased 5 bps to 3.50% from 3.55% in Q1 2019, as yields on commercial loans contracted slightly, offsetting yield growth on personal banking loans. Deposit costs increased only 4 bps over the previous quarter.
Fee Income	1.9% fee income growth vs prior year, driven by growth in trust, cash sweep fees, mortgage banking revenue and gains on sales of assets.
Non-Interest Expense	Expense growth was up 4.4% vs prior year, driven by increases in salaries and benefits and data processing costs, partly offset by lower deposit insurance expense.
Credit	Credit environment remains favorable as annualized net loan charge-offs remain low at .32% of total loans.

NET INTEREST INCOME: YTD – June 30, 2019



- Net interest income (tax equivalent) increased $8.1 million over the prior quarter.
- The growth was mostly due to an $8.5 million increase in inflation income from TIPs securities.
- A premium amortization expense adjustment for changing prepayment speeds on investment securities, lowering net interest income by $1.1 million, was recorded in Q2.

Tax equivalent - YTD	2018	2019	Change
Rates earned - assets	3.75 %	3.99 %	0.24 %
Rates paid - liabilities	0.38 %	0.67 %	0.29 %
Net yield - earning assets	3.51 %	3.56 %	0.05 %

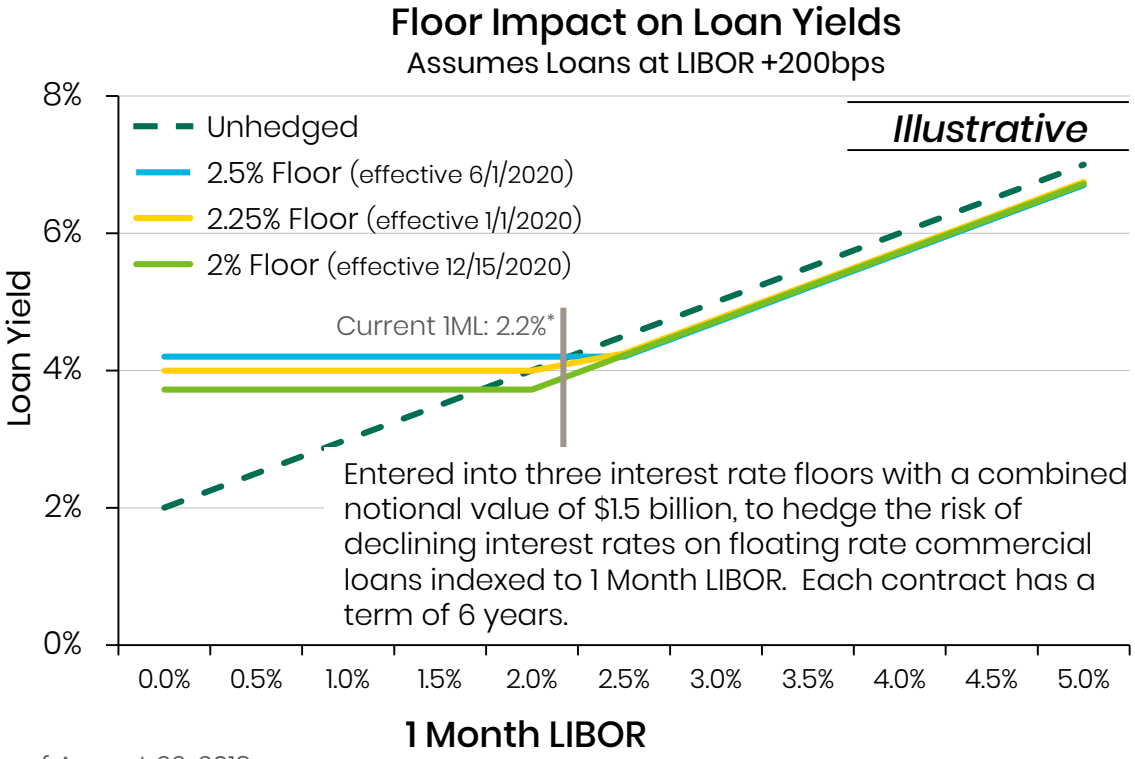
*Adjusted to exclude TIPs inflation income and one-time reclass of private equity dividend of $8.9 million in 2Q'18 and one-time CFB dividends in 3Q18 and 4Q18

NIM PROTECTION

Hedge against lower interest rates by purchasing interest rate floor contracts and extending duration



*As of August 22, 2019

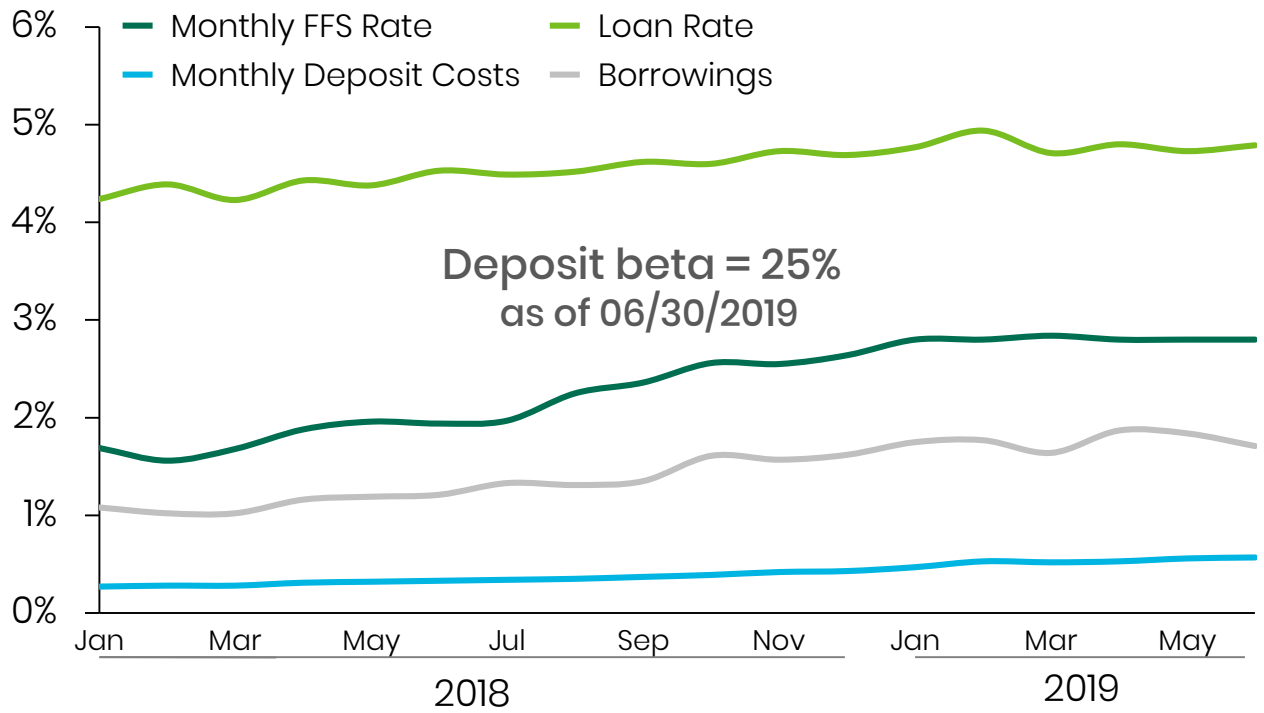
Extending Duration

In addition to the interest rate floors, Commerce has been extending fixed-rate bond maturities. Duration has been mostly maintained despite:

- A large decline in rates increasing prepayment speeds
- Strategic move out of municipals (typically our longest securities)
- Reduced monthly cash flows to reinvest

GROWTH IN DEPOSIT RATES – June 30, 2019

Beta Analysis



- Deposit beta measures the growth in deposit rates as a % of growth in short term rates (fed funds)
- Over the last 18 months, deposit rates have grown 32 basis points while fed funds rates have grown 128 basis points
- Loan yields are up 64 basis points over last 18 months

Source: S&P Global Market Intelligence, one-year deposit beta = the change in the cost of interest-bearing deposits between a given quarter and the year-ago quarter as a percentage of the change between the average effective fed funds rate between those two quarters.*
