An executive assistant at Hanger's corporate office saw a news story about Pirelli online, contacted Hanger's Clinical Operations team in Minneapolis, who then contacted Pirelli's owners to let them know Hanger has a clinic nearby with a staff who would be thrilled to help. A clinical team from Hanger in Georgia including Steve Miller, Billy Fletcher, Dan Elseroad, and Ron Wilkinson have since been working with Pirelli to fit him with a prosthetic foot that will allow him to run again.

About Hanger – Founded in 1861 by James Edward Hanger, the first amputee of the Civil War, Hanger, Inc. (NYSE: HGR) owns and operates 700+ Hanger Clinic locations nationwide. Specializing in integrated rehabilitative solutions, the certified clinicians of Hanger provide patients with the latest in orthotic and prosthetic solutions, including microprocessor-controlled prosthetic limbs for amputees and neuromuscular technologies for those with paralysis due to stroke, MS and other debilitating conditions. After a six-month celebration of its 150th anniversary, on February 1, 2012 Hanger unveiled a comprehensive new brand identity to position the company for the future. The new brand includes renaming the parent company from Hanger Orthopedic Group, Inc. to "Hanger, Inc.", and referring to the patient care business as "Hanger Clinic" (formerly Hanger Prosthetics and Orthotics).
