Media Advisory: 2021 STEM Signing Day Presented by Boeing, Powered by Tallo

4/22/2021

MOUNT PLEASANT, S.C.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Boeing and Tallo will host 2021 STEM Signing Day nationwide to recognize and celebrate high school seniors who are choosing to pursue STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) degrees through technical programs and two- and four-year colleges and universities.

More than 600 students will be honored across the country. The event will feature keynote remarks from speakers including Dave Calhoun, President and CEO of The Boeing Company; and Sydney Hamilton, Boeing Structures Stress Engineering Manager; and will be led by Shea Tighe, Vice President of Engagement at Tallo. Students will sign a letter of intent to pursue a STEM degree and hear from Boeing executives. Media interested in viewing the ceremony can tune in to the livestream by using the links below.
