Stride, Inc. Named 2024 Company of the Year by BIG Awards for Business

2024-11-21

The company was recognized for its groundbreaking contributions to online education.

RESTON, Va., Nov. 21, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Stride, Inc., one of the nation's leading technology-based education companies, has been honored as a Company of the Year by the 2024 BIG Awards for Business. The recognition highlights Stride's commitment to delivering accessible, personalized, and career-centric virtual learning experiences.

Hosted by the Business Intelligence Group, this award celebrates the companies, products, and leaders making a significant impact by reshaping industries and setting new standards for success.

With 25 years in the EdTech industry, Stride, Inc. continues to transform education by providing comprehensive online learning solutions that cater to the diverse needs of learners of all ages.

Stride's K12-powered schools offer personalized education experiences with a robust award-winning K-12 online curriculum, state-certified teachers, hands-on activities, and immersive experiences.

Through Stride Career Prep, project-based learning and real-world experiences teach high school students the critical thinking and collaboration skills they need to prepare for a rapidly changing future. For adult learners, career development programs like Galvanize, Tech Elevator, and MedCerts offer accessible pathways to upskilling and career transformation, fostering opportunities for lifelong learning.

This award adds to Stride's recent honors, including being named "Best EdTech Company" by the Global EdTech Awards and "Remote Learning Solution Provider of the Year" by EdTech Breakthrough.
