

With COVID Still Causing Problems in Modoc Classrooms, and Throughout Indiana, It May Be Time for a Permanent Switch to Online School

2/23/2022

MODOC, Ind.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Enrollment is open tomorrow for the 2022-23 school year at the Indiana Digital Learning School (INDLS), a full-time, public-school program throughout the state, and an online program of the Union School Corporation.

At the career learning-focused school, students can pair a solid academic foundation with hands-on learning experiences in growing career fields like Agriculture, Arts, Criminal Justice, Communications, Business, Education, Health Sciences, Public Safety, and IT. Whether their path leads them directly into the workplace, to the military, or to higher education, career learning provides students with the skills they need to get there.

The 2022 school enrollment season comes in the midst of yet another COVID surge nationwide, leaving parents scrambling for ideas. According to some reports, more parents than ever are looking at ongoing online options for their families.

"Parents need options, they need help, and we are here to sort it out for them. INDLS is well established in Indiana and with K12's 20 years of experience we are able to offer consistent, uninterrupted, high-quality education to keep your child learning," said Elizabeth Sliger, Head of School at INDLS.

An online public-school program, INDLS is available tuition-free to students in grades K-12 who reside anywhere in the state. Many families and students choose INDLS because it provides an alternative to traditional brick-and-mortar education. We welcome all students seeking a bullying-free environment in which students can balance a full academic course load, competitive eGaming Teams & virtual clubs with extracurricular pursuits or medical needs.
