Online Public School Provides Educational Option for Kansas Students

OLATHE, Kan.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jan. 18, 2018-- Enrollment in Insight School of Kansas (ISKS), an accredited, full-time public school program of the Spring Hill Unified School District, is now open for the 2018-19 school year. The statewide school serves students in grades 7-12, as well as qualified adult learners.

The comprehensive education approach at ISKS focuses on providing students with the academic, social and emotional support needed to succeed in school and beyond. The online learning environment allows students with unique educational needs to work at their own pace within parameters, giving them the ability to progress faster in subjects at which they excel while spending more time on subjects and lessons where they need more help.

State-certified teachers provide instruction, guidance and support, interacting with students and families via email, web-based classrooms, online discussions, phone and face-to-face meetings. Through live and recorded class sessions that are accessed online, students and their teachers can engage and interact as if they were sitting in a traditional classroom.

"Our school has a strong network of teachers, advisors, counselors and administrators dedicated to helping students reach their academic goals," said Cassie Barton, head of school at ISKS. "Here at Insight School of Kansas, we recognize that academic goals may be different for each student, and we strive to support our students in their academic journey, at whichever point they might be."

ISKS serves middle and high school students of all abilities and also provides targeted support for struggling students. Qualified students can also take college courses and earn both college and high school credit at the same time through concurrent enrollment.

In addition, the Adult Learner Program gives those in the Kansas community an opportunity to complete their high school diploma, no matter how long ago or at what point they left school. Students who are past their fifth-year cohort and have not earned a traditional high school diploma have the chance to do so, no matter their age.

During the enrollment period, ISKS will be conducting online and in-person information sessions throughout the state. Interested families are encouraged to attend to meet teachers, staff and other families to learn more about the engaging online curriculum provided by K12 Inc.
