

K12 Inc. Wins ACG National Capital 2010 Corporate Growth Award

April 9, 2010

HERNDON, Va., Apr 09, 2010 (BUSINESS WIRE) --K12 Inc. (NYSE:LRN) announced today that it won the ACG National Capital 2010 Corporate Growth Award for companies in the Washington, D.C. metro area with between $100 and $500 million in revenue. The award was presented last night at the ACG National Capital awards gala in McLean, VA.

The award is given to the company that best demonstrated consistent, sustainable and profitable growth, along with other factors such as the company's culture, community involvement, and leadership.

"We're honored to receive this award and to be recognized not only as a successful company, but one that is making a positive contribution in the Washington D.C. metro region," said Ron Packard, Founder and CEO of K12 Inc. "K12 has been based in northern Virginia since its founding. Much of K12's growth and success is attributable to the opportunities this region provides the company, its employees and their families."

ACG (Association for Corporate Growth) National Capital serves the fourth largest economic region in the U.S. representing the Washington, D.C. metro area, including northern Virginia and suburban Maryland. It is the leading authority on corporate growth in the mid-Atlantic region and one of the largest local chapters for the Association for Corporate Growth with over 400 members.

ACG promotes the professional and business interests of its members by providing access to knowledge and business opportunities through networking, communications and forum related to both internal and external corporate growth.
