

Colorado Online Schools Plan Event to Mark National School Choice Week (Jan. 26-Feb. 1)

January 22, 2014

DENVER, Jan. 22, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- Online students across Colorado will participate in a special event to celebrate National School Choice Week.

It will be among more than 5,500 independently planned events across the country taking place during National School Choice Week 2014.

Colorado Preparatory Academy and Insight School of Colorado will be hosting an in-person National School Choice Week open house in Westminster on Jan. 28 from 11 a.m. – 1 p.m.

Both schools are part of the Colorado public school system, and are tuition-free, giving parents and families the choice to access the award-winning curriculum and tools provided by K<sup>12</sup>.

"We're thrilled that Colorado Preparatory Academy and Insight School of Colorado are participating in National School Choice Week," said Andrew Campanella, National School Choice Week president. "We hear a lot about education in the news, but the students, teachers, and school leaders at Colorado Preparatory Academy and Insight School of Colorado remind us that, every single day, there are great things happening in schools of choice across America."

National School Choice Week shines a positive spotlight on effective education options for children including traditional public schools, public charter schools, magnet schools, private schools, online academies, and homeschooling.
