Insight School of Michigan (ISMI), a tuition-free online public-school serving students in grades 9-12 throughout the state begins their school year Tuesday, September 8, and provides students with the opportunity to reach their academic goals, while planning for the future, and all in an alternative education setting.

"We know the road is uncertain, but between our credit recovery programs and our expert teachers, Michigan students have options here they're just not going to get at most places," said ISMI Head of School, Teresa Boardman. "But mostly, I just want people to know that we are here, we are open, and we are ready to help"

Students choose online school for a variety of reasons including advanced learning, a bullying-free environment, a safe environment where students can be themselves, and the ability to support extracurricular pursuits or medical needs. ISMI's online platform gives students the opportunity to pursue their academic goals in a supportive environment and at an appropriate pace for their learning style.
