Carl G. Miller Elected to Curtiss-Wright Board of Directors

Thirty-Year Aerospace/Defense Industry Veteran to Serve on Audit & Finance Committees

ROSELAND, N.J., June 30 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- The Curtiss-Wright Corporation (NYSE: CW, CW.B), a diversified global provider of highly engineered products and services to the motion control, flow control and metal treatment industries, announced today that Carl G Miller, a thirty-year veteran of the aerospace and defense industry, has been elected to serve on its Board of Directors and as a member of its audit and finance committees.

Mr. Miller, 60, joins Curtiss-Wright following his retirement from TRW where he served as Corporate Controller starting in 1990. He was promoted to the position of Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, a position he held from 1996 - 2001. Previously, he held numerous financial management positions for companies including General Dynamics and Mallinckrodt Chemical. A Certified Public Accountant, he also worked with the public accounting firms of Main Lafrentz & Co. and Ahrens & McKeon. Mr. Miller earned his B.S. in Commerce from St. Louis University.

"We welcome the addition of Carl Miller to our Board of Directors," said Martin Benante, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer, Curtiss-Wright. "Carl brings to the Board over 30 years of financial management and leadership in our general industry, making him an invaluable resource to Curtiss-Wright."

Charles King and Nancy Hahn of the executive search firm Korn Ferry assisted in the search that resulted in Mr. Miller's election.

About the Centennial Celebration of Flight

On December 17, 1903, amid the sand dunes of Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, man's quest for powered flight became a reality when a small fabric and wood craft know as the Wright Flyer ushered in the aviation age. The team behind this legendary event, Orville and Wilbur Wright, along with aircraft designer Glenn Curtiss, gave birth to a new industry and founded Curtiss-Wright Corporation, today a multinational provider of metal treatment, motion control and flow control systems for the aerospace and defense industries.
