SILICON SLOPES, Utah--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 9, 2020-- Domo (Nasdaq: DOMO) today announced it has updated its free, interactive Coronavirus \(COVID-19\) Global Tracker with National Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) data from the Small Business Association (SBA). Within 48 hours of the PPP data being released by the SBA, the tracker was live with this information, providing details on the $500 billion loan program by industry, business-type, gender, geographic and ethnicity.

This free resource uses the Domo platform to help anyone see and understand COVID-19 related data, and embed any of the visualizations in their own websites or operations. Nearly 800 different organizations have connected to the tracker data to keep their employees and customers up to date on the impact of COVID-19. Originally launched in March 2020, the powerful and free tool updates every 10 minutes with aggregated, cross-checked data from sources including the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the World Health Organization (WHO), Johns Hopkins University, Worldometer and Enigma. It also includes economic and behavioral data from sources such as Foursquare through the AWS Marketplace, SafeGraph and the Transportation Security Administration (TSA).

Domo's cloud-based platform is unique in that organizations can add data sets that are critical to their operations for additional insight and embed the tool as a whole or individual visualizations that are most relevant to their stakeholders. Domo's tracker is fully available and interactive on mobile devices and to Domo customers via connectors as well.
